BUILDING

Located at number 46 Gran Vía, this building by Pedro Muguruza has the honor of being one of the tallest buildings in Madrid. It is a local emblem of American functional skyscraper architecture and the first of those built in exposed brick on this street.

VENUE

On the second, third and fourth floors of the Palacio de la Prensa is Gran Vía Venue, a large space for events that is divided into three exclusive areas for the use of events.

Gran Vía Venue has 940 m2 distributed in different environments, which combine a modern style with classic touches typical of the building. In addition, it offers a spectacular view of the Plaza de Callao and Madrid's Gran Vía thanks to its large balconies and tall windows, making it a unique and luminous space in the center of the capital.

US

We organize all types of events and corporate actions, adapting the space to the needs and desires of our clients' proposals.

We offer premium advice, including comprehensive support throughout the development and execution of the same.

SANTA ANA

PAPAGAYO

The image shows a grand, ornate interior space with multiple arches. The ceiling and walls are decorated with intricate, colorful floral and scrollwork patterns. The floor is made of light-colored tiles. In the background, there are large arched windows and doors, and a modern interior with a desk, chairs, and a small table. The text "SUBCOMMITTEES" is overlaid in the center of the image.
